

Treason Toting Company

A CREATIVE CULTURE THRIVES IN BALTIMORE, where entrepreneurs and artists are turning their big ideas into small businesses. Whether you want to immerse yourself in local culture or find a homegrown gift, the following small-batch makers and artisans are pure Charm City.

Treason Toting Company

811 N. CHARLES ST.

Two Baltimore-bred entrepreneurs joined forces to create this brand of durable canvas bags, which are designed by local artists and inspired by the city. Interested in an even more customized approach? You can dream up your own tote in-store.

Cedar & Cotton

208 S. PULASKI ST.

Thoughtfully curated by two local women, this home goods store features an eclectic mix of new and vintage furniture, accessories and lighting incorporating natural elements, African prints and metallic accents.

Charm City Cakes

618 S. PRESIDENT ST.

This Harbor East branch of the bakery made famous by Food Network's hit show "Ace of Cakes" sells freshly baked cupcakes, macaroons and cakes in a jar. (Heads-up to aspiring bakers: You can also get details on cake decorating classes at the Remington flagship.)

R. House

301 W. 29TH ST.

This 350-seat food hall features a stable of 10 fast-casual stalls that dish up everything from Venezuelan arepas to trendy poke bowls. A central bar pours cocktails and craft beers.

SoBotanical

48 E. CROSS ST.

This shop offers an extensive collection of essential oils, plus a line of hand-crafted face, skin, hair and pet care products. If you're unsure where to start, a skilled aromatherapist can help you discover your perfect blend.

Innovative Eats

WINECREAM

No matter the flavor, this wine-infused frozen treat is seriously indulgent.

• available at Wicked Sisters

OLD BAY ICE CREAM

Proof that Baltimoreans will put their favorite spice on anything.

• available at The Charmery

SNAKE OIL HOT SAUCE

Made from Chesapeake fish peppers aged in oak barrels.

• available at Woodberry Kitchen

